Dow in Louisiana

Proud history. Strong future.

Dow's ambition is to be the most innovative, customer-centric, inclusive and sustainable materials science company in the world – one that is driven by world-class talent and enabled by leading products and technologies. Dow's core values of Integrity, Respect for People and Protecting the Planet continue to guide and direct the company's actions and behaviors.

Today, Dow is one of the largest petrochemical companies in Louisiana, providing jobs for more than 4,500 Dow and contract employees, and pumping over $1 billion into the state's economy each year. At four locations, Dow manufactures nearly 100 different chemicals and plastics that are shipped worldwide.

Dow is the largest employer in many of the parishes where it operates. In 2021, Dow employees in Louisiana earned over $365 million dollars in payroll and benefits. Dow strongly supports long-term solutions that promote Louisiana's economy and manufacturers. As part of its global commitment to sustainability, Dow continues to invest in programs and organizations that have a long-term impact and serve as a starting point for widespread community involvement and growth. Most recently Dow expanded the Dow Leadership Program across the Gulf Coast and collaborated with The Nature Conservancy to expand conservation in Louisiana.

Dow in Louisiana

Dow came to Louisiana in 1956, drawn by the state's abundant natural resources, excellent transportation network, deep water port, easy access to the Mississippi River, dedicated workforce and available land. With the purchase of land in Iberville and West Baton Rouge parishes, Dow established Louisiana Operations (LAO) - its first site in the state. Over the past decade, Louisiana Operations has undergone more than $1 billion in new projects. Today, Louisiana Operations is Dow's second largest manufacturing site globally, and it includes headcount for Grand Bayou Operations. Crystal King serves as Director of the site.

St. Charles Operations (SCO) is the second largest Dow site in Louisiana. St. Charles Operations is owned by Union Carbide Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of The Dow Chemical Company. Today, Luca Balbo serves as Director of the site.
