

Laminating Adhesives New Legal Entity Structure

Dear Valued Elemica Supplier,

On May 2, 2024, Dow announced it reached an agreement with Arkema, a leader in specialty materials, outlining the intention to divest its Laminating Adhesives business, part of the Packaging & Specialty Plastics portfolio. The first stage of the process includes transitioning the business into a separate version of Dow's SAP system, the Advanza Tenant. For your planning purposes, the targeted transaction closing date is December 2nd, 2024.

What does this mean for you?

You are receiving this message today because your company currently sends/receives electronic documents, these order channels will no longer be supported in the Advanza Tenant. Note: If your company provides services or products to other Dow businesses in the Packaging & Specialty Plastics Divisions, your connection for those businesses will not change.

Action required:

- Starting December 2nd, sending/receiving electronic documents via Elemica channels will no longer be supported (Including PO Create, PO Response, Advanced Shipping Notice and Invoice through Elemica channel).
 - The open purchase order without goods delivery in DOW tenant will be migrated to new Advanza tenant after December 2nd, please check PO cross reference sheet to indicator new PO number on invoice with new legal entity title and send invoice to APAY scan center listed in New Legal Entity Structure - Suppliers| Work With Us | Dow Corporate.
 - You may find updated information such as Legal Entity Cross Reference, PO Cross Reference supplier checklist from New Legal Entity Structure - Suppliers| Work With Us | Dow Corporate
- If you have any questions, require additional information, or believe you are not the correct contact for this implementation, please contact your Sourcing Manager or eBusiness Implementation Specialist Alice Zhu at azhu10@dow.com and Purchasing focal Cindy Ye at CindyYe@dow.com.

At Dow, we are working hard to ensure a seamless transition, and we appreciate your patience and look forward to continuing our relationship with you.

Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
